Priorities

<sup>6</sup> Only use compulsion to stop an immediate threat to life, property, or free will. <sup>7</sup> Choose what you will have at the expense of what you won't. <sup>8</sup> Give no importance to that which has none. <sup>9</sup> Tend to your own affairs.

<sup>40</sup> Maintain your body in strength, speed, flexibility, and balance. <sup>41</sup> Devote one day in seven to rest and spiritual growth.

Virtues

Prayer

<sup>6</sup> Gratitude: Stand with your eyes closed and your face turned toward the sky until you are tranquil. <sup>7</sup> Recite, "God in heaven, I thank you for life, air to breathe, quiet places, and the ability to choose; <sup>8</sup> for challenges, work, emotion, and the gift of reason." <sup>9</sup> In your own words, express heartfelt gratitude to God.

<sup>10</sup> Confession: Bow, eyes closed, hands on knees, face downward. <sup>11</sup> Recite, "God in heaven, I strive to keep the Priorities, to balance the Virtues, and to learn from my failures when I don't. <sup>12</sup> I want to be more faithful. <sup>13</sup> I fall short in these ways." <sup>14</sup> In your own words, confess to God your failures, weaknesses, and ways you need to improve.

<sup>15</sup> Petition: Squat, arms outstretched, hands cupped to form a bowl, your face forward. <sup>16</sup> Recite, "God in heaven, you have given me a beautiful world to live in, messengers to teach me, and guidance when I ask. <sup>17</sup> Hear my prayer." <sup>18</sup> In your own words, request God's guidance in achieving your righteous desires.

like. <sup>21</sup> You send guidance through a gentle thought, a quiet feeling, or a soft voice. <sup>22</sup> I'm listening." Listen for God's guidance.

Parables

responds, <sup>3</sup> “The father places a seed in the mother’s belly. The mother nourishes that seed and it grows into a baby.”

<sup>2:4</sup> So it is when God teaches us.

<sup>3:4</sup> The first man turned the dials of the lock. <sup>5</sup> He listened carefully as the mechanism moved inside. <sup>6</sup> He noticed patterns of sound and vibration within the dials. <sup>7</sup> After many days of persistence and study, he discovered the combination and unlocked the vault.

<sup>4:1</sup> There were two lakes. <sup>2</sup> The first lake said to himself, “I will retain every drop of water that flows into me so that I can be great.” <sup>3</sup> His waters became salty and putrid. <sup>4</sup> His fish died and the plants along his shore wilted. <sup>5</sup> Animals and travelers avoided him.

<sup>4:6</sup> The second lake said to himself, “I want to prosper all life on the mountain below me. I will retain a modest pool for myself then allow each drop to pass down the river to those who might use it.” <sup>7</sup> His waters became clean and sweet. <sup>8</sup> His fish grew large and the plants along his shore prospered. <sup>9</sup> Animals and travelers came from afar to enjoy his splendor.

<sup>4:10</sup> So it is with all assets.

<sup>5:1</sup> Rain, freshly fallen from a cloud, is clean and good to drink. <sup>2</sup> As it flows down mountains and across plains, it becomes soiled and bitter. <sup>3</sup> The sun must extract pure water from the sea again, leaving impurities behind, to produce fresh rain once more.

<sup>8:3</sup> So it is with many religions.

<sup>9:1</sup> A man brought eggs home from the market. <sup>2</sup> Upon arriving, he announced, “I brought home one dozen eggs.” <sup>3</sup> His wife said, “No you didn’t. You brought home twelve individual eggs.” <sup>4</sup> A son said, “You’re both wrong. There are clearly three rows of four eggs each.”<sup>5</sup> A daughter disagreed, “Not at all. There are actually four columns of three eggs each.”

<sup>9:6</sup> So it is with discussions about God’s nature and methods.

<sup>10:5</sup> Another man chose to climb the same mountain. <sup>6</sup> He gazed permanently at his feet, to avoid the errors of the first man, and began hiking. <sup>7</sup> Without tripping once, he wandered off into a valley, <sup>8</sup> and was unable to reach the mountain top.

<sup>10:9</sup> So it is when balancing virtues.

<sup>11:1</sup> A man noticed a few small pieces of a jigsaw puzzle resting on a table. <sup>2</sup> He wanted to assemble the new puzzle, but there weren’t enough pieces to complete the task. He also didn’t know how the puzzle should look when it was finished.

<sup>11:3</sup> From time to time a new piece would appear on the table, but there still weren’t enough to guess the puzzle’s final form. <sup>4</sup> One day, a sketch of the finished puzzle appeared next to the scattered pieces. <sup>5</sup> The man began to assemble what he had only to realize that some pieces were still missing. <sup>6</sup> He returned each day, sometimes to find a new piece, sometimes to find an old piece that had been accidentally bumped loose, and sometimes to find no changes at all. <sup>7</sup> In time, all the pieces arrived and he gathered the puzzle together into its beautiful, complete form.

<sup>11:8</sup> So it is with personal revelation.
